

Beyond The Presses

A Sentinel Reality Series

Episode 6

Episode 6—Concept Becomes Reality

In this episode of Beyond the Presses, Dale hands over the reigns to Brad Farnick, Production Supervisor, to take you through our production facility!

Once your proof has been approved and returned to Customer Service, the job is handed off to Brad and our production staff. As Production Supervisor, Brad ensures a smooth journey of your project through the shop.

With more than 17 years in the industry, Brad has experience with all the equipment on our shop floor. Brad is invaluable when it comes to making sure we are running as efficiently as possible.

As we start our journey into the heart of our printing company, Brad will introduce you to members of our production staff who make your concept become reality!

Dale hands a job, and the Beyond the Presses series, to Brad. But have no fear, Dale is still in the picture!

The Sentinel team is proud to have Brad as our experienced and educated Production Supervisor. Just like every successful Supervisor, family and friends play a big part in Brad's life outside of work. Brad is active in his children's lives and spends much of his free time volunteering for youth wrestling and at his children's school. Brad's dedication and loyalty is one of the endearing qualities that makes Brad such a delight to work with!
